I have a dream that there will be no littering. That the world will be environmentally friendly. That it will be a place where everyone can breathe freely without the fear they breathed in dangerous gasses. That all air will be clean and safe to breathe.

I have a dream that one day equality will come upon us. That everyone will be treated equally . that all will be accepted. That white will accept coloured because we are all human beings.

I have a dream that the world will be a crime free place . That there will be no robberies and no murders .That everyone would have the mindset to have no crime in this world. That everyone will accept people for who they are.

I have a dream that everyone will have a home . that the streets won't be filled with homeless people .that no one will suffer the cold winter's night on the street That all people will have a heated home during winter and warm food on the table.

I have a dream that everyone will live forever . that we will never lose loved ones .That all living things will be able to live to see their family in it's true form.

I have a dream that we could know more about medical history so we can prevent illnesses in the future. that we never get sick that the doctors will not be needed as much. That no operations will take place.
