I have a dream that…
prejudice and discrimiation will become distant memories, neighbours will live happily side by side, no matter what their appearance or beliefs, citizens will have an equal voice and all opinions valued, people will forgive each other and accept each other's views.

I have a dream that…
one day our precious planet will be free of pollution, we will breathe more easily and take responsibility for our world, we won't see unbearable pictures of spectacular sea creatures being strangled in waste, or the polar ice caps and glaciers melting like the tears of icicles.

I have a dream that…
the rainforests will be safe from danger and exploitation, animals and plants will be protected and preserved instead of in peril, we will value the forest for its life-giving legacy, ecotourism will bloom like tropical flowers and deforestation will wither like vines.

I have a dream that…
war will only be written in history books, countries will be generous and work out their differences peacefully, Communities will have a sense of belonging and safety in their homes,, the world will love each other as friends and family.

I have a dream that…
no nation need ever go hungry,
technology will save us from waste, crop failure and famine, violence will not drive people from their homes, and our care for the planet will ensure mountains of food to share.

I have a dream that…
people will be given the best education,
their futures will become one of optimism not oppression, they will have choices and chances to be whatever they desire, and girls all over the world will be as successful as their brothers.

This is my vision,
For our future and the generations to come.
